- Line 2. List the mailing address where correspondence regarding the application and billing for the annual permit fee may be sent. Please include your nine-digit zip code.

If unsure about applicable zoning laws or whether conditional use permits or a California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) review are required, please contact the applicable city or county planning department before answering this question. If "Yes" is checked, please attach copies of all land-use authorizations.

Information about the Responsible Official (for farms subject to Federal permits):

For a corporation, the responsible official shall be a president, secretary, treasurer, or vice president in charge of a principal business function, or any other person who performs similar policy or decision-making functions for the corporation. The responsible official may be a duly authorized representative rather than any of the above if the representative is responsible for the overall operation of one or more manufacturing, production, or operating facilities applying for or subject to a permit; and

1. The facilities employ more than 250 persons or have gross annual sales or expenditures exceeding $25 million in 1980 dollars; or
2. The District has approved a petition from the original responsible person to delegate authority.

For a partnership or sole proprietorship, the responsible official is a general partner or the proprietor, respectively.

Application Fees: An application filing fee of $71 for each emission unit (e.g., each irrigation pump engine, milk parlor, cow housing, liquid manure handling/land application, solid manure handling, feed storage and handling, gasoline tank(s), etc.) is required. Emissions units subject to permits are also subject to annual renewal fees based upon the fee schedule in District Rule 3020. For major source farms subject to Federal Title V permits, an evaluation fee based on District staff hours expended is required under Section 3.2 of District Rule 3010. Any Federal Title V application fees will be billed on a quarterly basis during the processing of the application.

Applications may be submitted either by mail or in person at any of the following locations. The District is pleased to provide businesses with assistance in all aspects of the permitting process.
